Probus party marks tenth anniversary

By SUSAN LANE

DENMARK River Probus Club celebrated its 10th anniversary at the September meeting with 50 members attending the festive occasion.

Among them were nine of the club's founding members - Sue Allan, Kerry Clark, Wendy Lind, Kevin Stone, Vicki and Peter Lumia, Glenice Smith, Carmel Stott and Kaye White.

The event included seven past and current presidents, highlighting the leadership and dedication that has shaped the club over the years.

Club members embraced the party spirit in fancy dress, enjoying skits, jokes and humorous poems.

Helena Soter stole the show with her performance of Banjo Paterson's The Man from Ironbark.

Carmel Stott was honoured with the club's first life membership badge, along with a certificate and bouquet.

Carmel has held numerous roles in the club, including president and treasurer, and is known for her generosity, such as when she brought a feast of homemade samosas and desserts to the Probus wine club's Indian theme night.

The celebration was a fitting tribute to a decade of fun, friendship and fellowship.

Best couple winners, Marcel Marceaux Julie and Kevin Nayda.

Best female, J for Joker, Joyce Edmonds.
