

Keeping in Touch - 5 April 2020

Hi everyone,

Another week has passed, Autumn is upon us, time to get the vegetable garden into shape. I planted some seeds the other day, then couldn't remember what a few days later. Some clever clod suggested old age may have had something to do with it, fair go!

With everything so quiet, I expect all those lists of to do things, will just about be a thing of the past, ( that should put a smile on the little lady's face). Just don't let her near pen and paper, or you will probably get a new list. O well, such is life.

For all you book club members, I believe a number of you ladies are. Have you read any interesting books lately, " Miss Pettigrew Lives For A Day" by Winifred Watson, 1938.(reprinted 2008,2009,2013,2015) it was very well received then and now.

Does anyone have any Bush Poetry they would like to share, either, loose or book form, it would be very much appreciated.

Please remember, if anyone is struggling , or you know of someone who needs assistance in any way, please let somebody know so help can be provided. Even just a phone call, is all that may be required.

Funnies for The Week

Q. Where can single men over the age of 70 find younger women who are interested in them
